You can't remember the 4-digit PIN code of your credit card? No need to worry. George will show you your code in the app or in the browser version any time you need it.

Please note

Card codes are not sent by post. Depending on the banking institution and the type of card, the display of the PIN code may be subject to a charge, the same as previously for re-ordering the PIN.

App

That's how it works

- 1 Select your desired credit card in the overview.
- 2 Click on Functions and in the next step on "Show PIN".

- 3 Confirm the display of your PIN code with your signing method, e.g. s Identity.
- 4 George will now show you the PIN. Please remember the combination of numbers and then close the view.

- 5 If you want to have the PIN code displayed again, repeat the procedure. You can do this up to 5 times a day.

Web Browser

That's how it works

- 1 In the overview, click on the credit card from which you would like to see the code. Or select the desired card under "Your products".

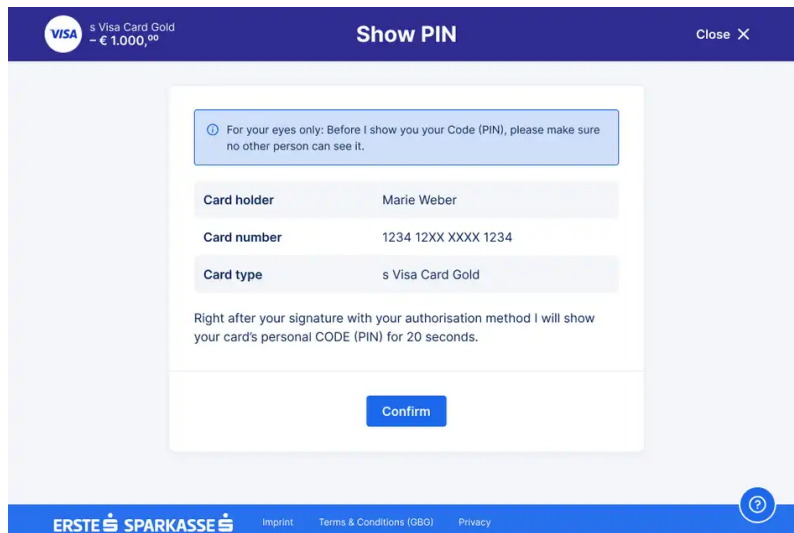

- 2 Click on Card features and scroll down to the bottom. Here you will find the menu item "Your code (PIN)".

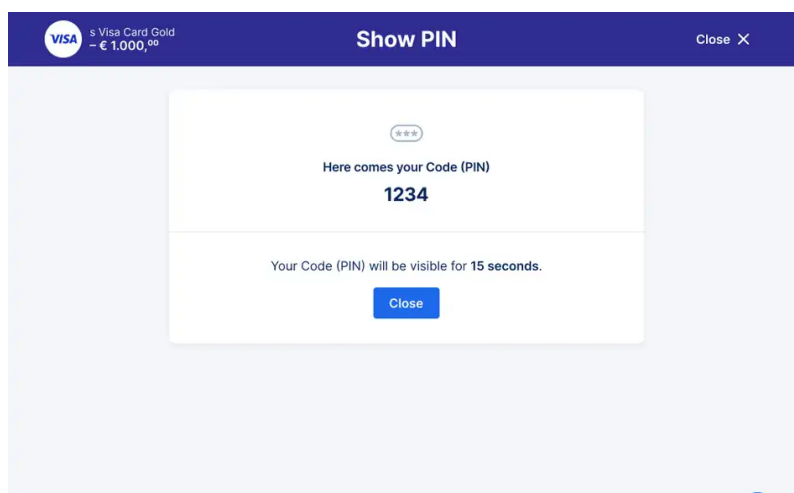

- 3 If you click on "Show it", as well as on "Confirm" in the next step, you can complete this action with your signing method, such as s Identity.

- 4 George will now show you the PIN code of your card for 20 seconds.

- 5 If you want the code to be displayed again, please repeat the process.

A small hint

Change the PIN of your s credit card to your desired code free of charge at the self-service device in the self-service foyer of a branch. To do this, choose 4 digits that you can easily remember.

But please do not choose any easily guessable number combinations such as your year of birth or postcode. Your desired code remains the same even if you reorder or renew your card.

A safety advice

Please make sure that only you see your PIN code. This is for your eyes only.
