The more accounts and cards you have, the more organisation and customisation options you might want – and need. That's why George provides you with many ways to personalise and simplify your banking experience. This article shows you how to organise the different elements with George and therefore stay on top of your finances.

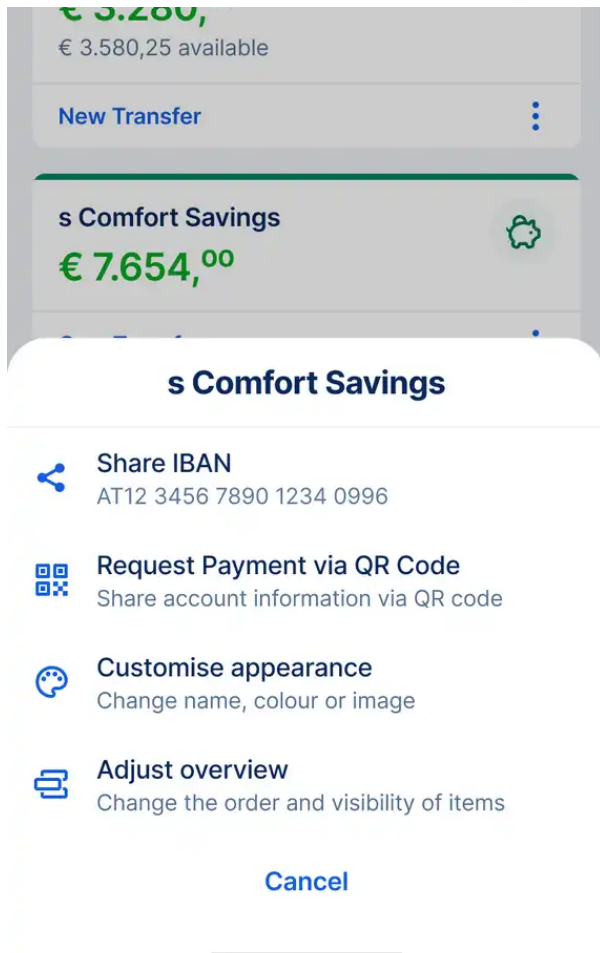

App

Get organised

Click on those three dots at the bottom right of one of your accounts or cards in your overview.

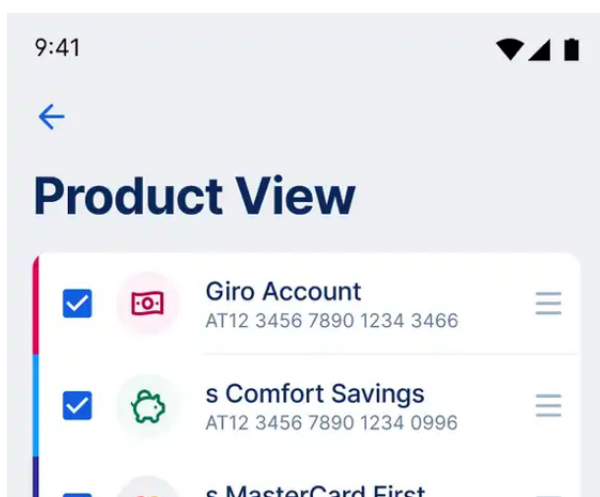

Choose "Adjust overview".

There, you can either show or hide certain elements or arrange them as you like with drag-and-drop.

For drag-and-drop to work, click on the three lines at the right side of the particular row that you want to move.

Web Browser

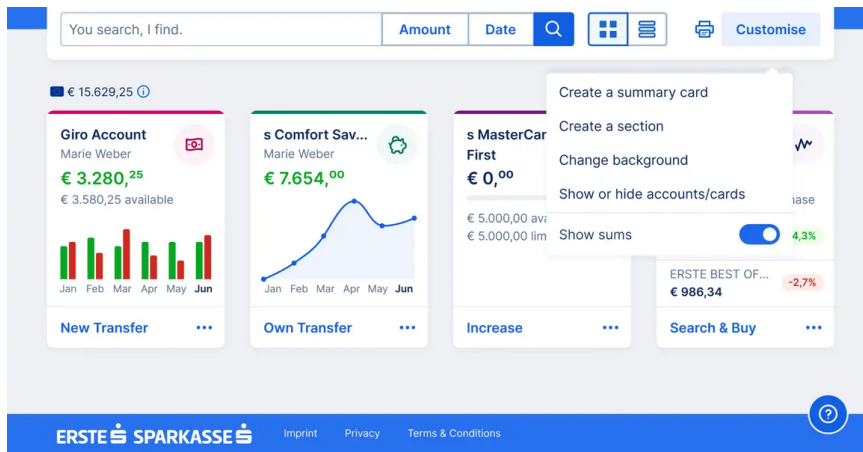

Get organised

As you access George, you can see your accounts, cards and more as part of your overview. In order to stay on top of things, there are a few different ways to get organised:

Firstly, you can change the order in your overview with drag-and-drop.

If you go to "Customise", you'll find even more options:

There, you can create summary cards, meaning you can sum up several elements in one product card (which is then shown in your overview).

You are able to create sections, helping you organise your accounts and cards in various categories and areas to better distinguish them from each other.

You can also decide if you want to show sums (in these sections) or not.

Plus, you have the option to decide which accounts or cards to show and which to hide from the overview.

If you're feeling not only organised, but also ready for a bit of colour, you can also change the background of your overview. Just pick one of the offered George designs.

Apart from organising it the way you want to,

there are also other ways to personalise your George overview. Have some fun and dive into the many ways of making your baking experience the best it can be.
