Go to "Info".

Here you find your main information and details about your giro account (such as your IBAN or your available amount). You also have the option of sharing your account information if, for example, someone needs to transfer money to you.

If you want to access your account permissions (e.g. regarding your account history or overdraft), please access them via the George browser version.

Web Browser

How to get there

Choose your giro account from the overview.

Go to "Product Settings".

You can also choose your giro account via "Your Products" in the menu at the top of your screen.

In the product settings (browser version) or info section (app), you can then see all the important information regarding your giro account, from the IBAN to your balance, your available amount etc. In the browser version, you can also access and edit your account permissions.

Please note

If you revoke certain permissions, only your advisor can reinstall them.

These permissions include the following topics:

Account History

Here you can activate the possibility to watch, download, print, export and filter your account's transaction history at any time.

Domestic Transfer

If activated, you are entitled to create transfers within Austria at any time from your account.

Own Transfer

You are entitled to create own transfers at any time between your accounts.

Foreign Transfer

This permission entitles you to create foreign transfers (SEPA as well as non-SEPA) from your account.

Agreed Overdraft

Set up an agreed overdraft for your account to increase the available amount.

Notifications

Here you can edit (activate/deactivate) and stay up to date with your notifications. You will be informed whenever something important is going on in or with your account.

George also keeps you updated about your accounts in other ways, too. For example in your account statements, where a monthly statement awaits you. You can also edit your different types of orders, e.g. standing or sweep orders, or activate features such as Round Up Savings any time. Plus, the communication hub keeps you updated about news and documents that require some kind of attention from you or the bank.
